

Topography

Vineyards are set among rolling benches, low hills, and river terraces with well-drained alluvial soils of gravel, sand, and loam, and are strongly shaped by the cooling influence of Pacific fog.

Appellation

Grapes for this wine came from vineyards planted with the Old Wente clone between Healdsburg and Windsor in the Sonoma Coast AVA.

Winemaking

Grapes for this wine were whole cluster pressed before cold soaking for 2 days at cool temperatures.

Fermentation

Fermentation took place in French oak barriques, of which 20% were new and 80% of this wine went through malolactic fermentation. The wine was then aged for ten months with periodic stirring of the lees in French oak barriques of which 20% were new.
